Sally I'll make some snacks for you. What do you want, Oliver?

Oliver I want pancakes.

Sally You know I'm the best at making pancakes.

Oliver Let me help you, Sally. What do we need?

Sally We need eggs, flour, milk, butter, and maple syrup.

Oliver Oh, we have all of those.

Sally Okay. First, let's beat the eggs in a bowl until they're creamy.

Oliver I can do that.

Sally Then I'll melt the butter in the pan.

Oliver It's really hot, so be careful, Sally.

Sally Okay. Next, I'll pour the melted butter, flour, and milk into the creamy eggs.

Oliver After that, we should mix them all together, right?

Sally Right. Do you want to try it?

Oliver Sure.

Sally Good job! I'll pour the batter slowly onto the pan to make perfect circles.

Oliver And then?

Sally Flip them two or three times until the pancakes turn golden brown.

Oliver Wow, it smells good!

Sally Finally, we can pour maple syrup on top of the pancakes!

Oliver They look so delicious! You're the best cook, Sally.

Jenn Hi! Welcome to Jenn's Easy Cooking Channel! I'm Jenn. Last time, we made French toast. Today, we'll make green tea chocolate chip ice cream. I have milk, green tea powder, syrup, and chocolate chips. First, I pour green tea powder and syrup into the milk. Then I mix them all. I put green tea milk and chocolate chips into the blender. Then I push the button to mix them all together. I pour the mix into an ice cream mold. And I freeze it. Ta-da! I made some for you in advance. It looks delicious, right? Enjoy it by yourself, or share it with your friends!

Mom It's too small. Try on a bigger size.
Suzy Okay. How about this one?
Mom It's too big on you. Try the medium one.
Suzy Oh! I think this is the one. It fits me!
Mom It fits you just right. How about trying on this pair of jeans, too?
Suzy Okay, Mom. Hmm. These jeans are a little tight on me.
Mom Here, I found a bigger size. Try these on instead, then.
Suzy Okay. It's just right! But mom, there's something wrong with these jeans.

Mom What is it, sweetie?
Suzy I think the zipper is stuck. It doesn't move at all.
Mom Try wiggling the zipper back and forth.
Suzy It's not working. It's still stuck.
Mom Try pulling it up and down.
Suzy Okay, I think I got it! Phew, these jeans are uncomfortable!
Mom Do you want to try on another pair?
Suzy No, thanks. I think I will just buy the jacket for now.

Topic 2 Flea Market

1 b 2 a 3 d

■ Script

Ted I love Saturday because it's flea market day! Every Saturday morning, my family and I go to the park to sell our old things. We lay out a picnic blanket on the grass. I put down my old books on the blanket. My sister puts down her old toys. My mom and dad put down their old clothes. There are other families selling their stuff, too! I like to walk around and look at everything. Sometimes, I see strange and interesting things. I saw real cowboy boots. I saw old dial phones and radios with long antennas. Sometimes we sell many items. Sometimes we sell nothing at all. But every Saturday is great. Why? Because it's flea market day!

- Kelly Wow, it's like a dream! We're at White Beach!
- Eamon Yes. The sun is shining. It's a beautiful day!
- Kelly This sand is so soft and white!
- Eamon Do you know where this sand comes from?
- Kelly Well, sand usually comes from stones.
- Eamon The sand here is different.
- Kelly Where does it come from?
- Eamon I will give you a hint. Fish make the sand.
- Kelly Hmm. Can you give me another hint?
- Eamon Sure. The sand is usually made of coral.
- Kelly Do the fish break the coral? It looks too hard to break.
- Eamon They use their teeth to break it. And then they eat it!
- Kelly How can they make the sand if they eat it?

- Eamon Here is another hint. What happens after you eat something?
- Kelly The food goes down. It goes into my stomach.
- Eamon That's right. What happens next?
- Kelly Uh... then I have to go to the toilet.
- Eamon That's right. The sand is fish poop!
- Kelly Poop?! I think I will go wash my hands now.
- Eamon Ha-ha. How about going snorkeling first?
- Kelly If we go snorkeling, can we see the fish eating the coral?
- Eamon Of course! Come on, let's go!

■ Script

- Alex My family and I went fishing at the lake this summer vacation. The lake was in the forest, so there were many trees and the air was fresh. I felt great! First, my dad put a worm on the hook for me. I still can't touch worms with my hands. He also helped me cast a line. Just when I started to feel bored, my fishing rod moved up and down. I was so excited and I pulled it strongly. Oh, my! It was not a fish. It was a plastic bag. My mom and dad laughed loudly. They caught many fish, unlike me. My dad cooked them. They were so delicious! Next time when I go fishing, I will catch many fish!

Mike Hey, Patty. This is my hedgehog.
Patty Wow! It's cuter than I thought. What's its name?
Mike Spikey!
Patty Hey, Spikey! Oh, it's looking at me! Where does it live?
Mike Come here! This is his house. He really hates the cold, so I put sawdust and a blanket on the floor.
Patty The house looks cozy. Hedgehogs have many sharp spines on their back. How do you pick him up?
Mike At first, I could not pick him up with my bare hands. I used leather gloves.

Patty You mean you can pick him up with your bare hands now?

Mike Yes. I still need to be careful, but Spikey doesn't raise his spines now when I pick him up.

Patty Oh, he knows you're his friend. What does he usually eat?

Mike He usually eats feed for hedgehogs.

Patty Only feed?

Mike No. I sometimes cut some fruit and vegetables into pieces and give them to him. And...

Patty And?

Mike Actually, he sometimes eats mealworms.

Patty Worms? Oh, my!

Topic 2 Special Friendship

■ Script

Walter Hi, I'm Walter. I'm Julia's puppy. Julia adopted me from her friend when I was just six weeks old. When I first met Julia, I knew she was very special. She knew I was special, too. Julia and I have a lot in common. First of all, we are both deaf. This means we cannot hear. She talks to me by using sign language. I look at her hands and I can understand her signs! Second, we both love to play! Every day, I sit next to her while she does her homework. After she finishes her homework, we go into the yard to play. Our favorite game is 'catch'. I know Julia loves me because she takes good care of me. I am happy to be her best friend.

G: Can I try? Benji, bring me the ball!

6.

G: Mom, I want to get a hedgehog.

W: A hedgehog? I think they are dangerous because they have many spines.

G: Well, my best friend Paul has a pet hedgehog, but it has never hurt him.

W: Then I'll call his mom and ask about it.

[7-8]

B: What is that spiked ball inside your cage?

G: Oh, that? That's my pet! He's a little shy right now.

B: Can I touch him?

G: No, be careful! Wear these gloves first. His spines are very sharp.

B: Oh, I'm scared. Do you usually wear the gloves, too?

G: I used to, but not anymore. He feels comfortable with me.

B: I'm a little scared, so I'll just watch you hold him.

G: Sure, no problem. Isn't he so cute?

[9-10]

Peter: Hi, I'm Peter. Last week, my parents and I adopted a puppy. He is special. He was born with three legs. People didn't like him. But when I first saw him, I liked him. He looked very special to me! He is a bit slow, but he can walk and run like other puppies.

Topic 2 Dad, a Hard Worker

1 a 2 b, a, c 3 c

■ Script

Brandon On Saturdays and Sundays, my dad always works around our house and yard. In the winter, he dusts the tops of the doors and picture frames in the house. Nobody ever cleans those! In the spring, he waters the lawn and pulls weeds from the grass in our yard. Our neighbors think we have the nicest lawn! In the summer, he picks vegetables and fruits from our garden and washes them next to the garage. We eat them at our Sunday dinners. They are so tasty! In the fall, he rakes leaves off the lawn and puts them into plastic bags. It takes so much time. After that, he takes the bags of leaves and dumps them into our compost. My dad works so hard on his weekend household chores. What a hard worker!

■ Script

Lynn Tory, what are you looking at?

Tory Hey, Lynn. I'm looking at the wall.

Lynn Why? It's just a green wall.

Tory It makes me feel relaxed and peaceful.

Lynn Oh, yes. When we see the color green, it makes us feel relaxed.

Tory Right. That's why people paint hospitals green.

Lynn Yes. What about yellow?

Tory Well, when I see yellow, I feel nice and happy.

Lynn Me, too. That's why my younger brother has a yellow umbrella and yellow T-shirts.

Tory When I was 5, I also had many yellow things.

Lynn What do you think about blue? Do you feel sad when you see blue?

Tory No. I feel cool!

Lynn Why do you feel like that?

Tory Last week, I went to the sea with my family. The sea was deep blue!

Lynn I see. So people sometimes have different feelings when they see the same color.

Tory That's right.

Topic 2 What Is Color Meaning?

1 c 2 a, c 3 b

■ Script

Teacher Hi, guys. Today, we're talking about the meanings of different colors. What is color meaning? For example, what color is a fire truck? It's red. Red means danger and warning. Red also means love. When you pack a gift, you use red ribbon. When you want to show your love, you give red roses. What about green? Think about the color green in traffic lights. Green means safety. Green also means nature and health. Now let's talk about white. Doctors usually wear white gowns. White means peace and cleanliness. Many brides wear white wedding dresses. They want to look pure and clean. Let's talk about other colors with your partners.

Cindy Sorry, Roman. I need to write a book report today.
Roman What about tomorrow?
Cindy I'm fine tomorrow. What movies are playing at the theaters?
Roman There's a superhero movie, a horror movie, and a comedy.
Cindy Hmm... I can't watch horror movies. After I watch a horror movie, I'm scared to be home alone.
Roman Okay. What about a comedy?
Cindy I think they're childish.
Roman Then you like superhero movies, right?
Cindy Yes. What about you?
Roman Actually, I really love superhero movies.

- Cindy Oh, great! Did you watch Iron Man?
Roman Of course! He's so cool! His suit is amazing! He can fly when he wears his suit and use various weapons.
Cindy You look so excited. You're a big fan of Iron Man.
Roman Yes, I am.
Cindy Does Iron Man play the title role in this movie?
Roman This time, Iron Man comes out with many other heroes.
Cindy Oh, great! What time does the movie start?

■ Script

- Sam Hello. Thank you for having me for Career Day at your school. My name is Sam, and I'm a stuntman. Do you know what a stuntman does? No? Have you seen a car crash in a movie? A stuntman drove that car! We do all the dangerous parts in movies. For example, my last movie was a superhero movie. The main actor wore his costume and yelled at the bad guy. Then I wore the same costume. The bad guy punched me and I fell from a window! In the movie, it looks like the main actor got punched. But really, it was me! If you want to be a stuntman, you have to be brave and athletic. When I was younger, I loved movies and P.E. Now I get to do both of these hobbies every day. For me, this is the perfect job!

David Hey, Lisa! Come with me!

Lisa What are we going to do, David?

David We're going to ride electric scooters, electric wheel boards, or in-line skates at the park.

Lisa I know in-line skates. But what are electric scooters and electric wheel boards?

David They use electricity. They're much faster than in-line skates.

Lisa Sounds a little scary.

David They aren't that scary. Oh, we're here. Let's go into the rental shop.

Lisa Okay. Are these electric scooters?

David No, those are electric wheel boards. Electric scooters have handles.

Lisa Oh, those must be the electric scooters!

David Yes. Do you think you can ride an electric scooter?

Lisa I think so, but I'm a little nervous.

David What about an electric wheel board?

Lisa I don't think so. I'm not usually good at keeping my balance.

David Okay! Pick two scooters and I'll show you how to start them.

■ Script

Lucy Hi, I'm Lucy. This is my new jump rope. It's very special. As you can see, it doesn't have a long rope! Each handle has a short rope, so I feel like I am jumping rope. I never trip on the rope, so it's safer than normal jump ropes. It has one more special detail. One of its handles has a small LCD screen. The screen shows how many times I have jumped. The screen also shows my weight, how long I have exercised, and how many calories I have burned. How smart it is! It needs two batteries, and I just need to change them once every six months or so. What an amazing jump rope!

Paul Hey, guys. This is Paul from Bricks Broadcasting. Last week, Amy broke her leg while she was running down the stairs. You know what I'm going to talk about. Yes, safety at school. We should follow rules for our safety. First, walk on the right side when you're in the hall and on the stairs. If not, you can bump into your classmates. Second, do not run everywhere. If you run, you might fall down. Third, when it rains or snows, floors are wet and slippery. You should walk slowly. Fourth, when you go up and down the stairs, hold on to the handrails. You can miss your step and roll down the stairs. Last, you should not sit on window frames or lean out of the windows. You might fall over. Anyway, that's it for now. If you want to learn more about these rules, please visit www.safeatschool.com. Have a nice day!

Tom Yumi! It's been a long time. What's up?

Yumi I have a cold. It is winter in Korea, and it's freezing!

Tom Poor Yumi. I hope you get well soon.

Yumi Thanks. How are you doing these days?

Tom It's winter here too, but it's not cold. It's toasty during the daytime, so I can swim at the beach.

Yumi Wow, I envy you! Where do you live?

Tom I live in Malibu. It's a beach town. The beach is 30 minutes away.

Yumi Great! What about at night? Is it toasty at night?

Tom Actually, no. At night, it's a bit chilly. But the temperature never falls below freezing.

Yumi What a great place to live in! Where is Malibu? You told me before, but I forgot.

Tom It's in California.

Yumi Right. Is it usually warm in California all-year-round?

Tom No. California is very large, so each place has different weather. In some places, people can enjoy winter sports.

Yumi Really? I didn't know California was that large.

Tom Anyway, if you want to be warm during the winter vacation, why don't you come here?

Yumi Can I? I'd love to!

Tom If you come here, you can stay with me and my family.

Yumi I'll ask my mom today!

Tom Okay. My parents always welcome my friends.

Yumi I can't wait for winter vacation!

Topic 2 Animal Weather Predictors

■ Script

Narrator Some animals can predict the weather. Did you know that? Cats act strangely before an earthquake. Earthquakes make many sound waves. Humans cannot hear them, but cats can hear the sound waves. So they know an earthquake is coming! Bees can predict when it will rain. When the air starts to get moist, the bees fly back to their hives. They don't like the rain, so they stay dry inside their homes. Spiders like to stay warm when it's chilly in the fall. So, they like to go inside your homes! Don't be too surprised! Birds can predict the weather, too. If they fly high in the sky, the weather is good. If they fly closer to the ground, a storm could be on its way. These animals are amazing!

B: It's snowing, Mom!

W: Oh, my! Is it snowing hard?

B: Not too much. Why?

W: I planned to meet my friend.

B: Oh, I see. You're worried that the streets will be slippery.

W: Yes. I think I should put on my boots.

B: Right! I'll get your boots from the shoe closet.

W: Thank you. You're such a good boy.

[9-10]

Narrator: Dogs, cats, and even elephants can predict an earthquake! For example, elephants can hear earthquake's sound waves from far away. Then they will move to a safer place. If you see an elephant moving away, it may be a good idea to follow him!
